2.1 Obligation and Liability of the Telephone Company

2.1.1 Availability of Facilities and Equipment

Services and associated products, facilities, equipment, features and functions will be available in accordance with the Contract, where technically and operationally feasible.

The Telephone Company’s obligation to furnish Services is dependent upon its ability to secure and retain, without unreasonable expense, suitable facilities and rights for the construction and maintenance of the necessary facilities, pole lines, circuits and equipment. The Company may limit communications, refuse to provide Services or discontinue Services when necessary because of (i) the lack of transmission medium, transmission capacity or any other facilities or equipment, (ii) the lack of available services from or interconnection with the services or facilities of Other Providers, or (iii) any cause beyond the Company’s control.

At the Customer’s request, the Company may perform installation or maintenance on weekends or times other than during normal business hours; provided, however, Customer may be assessed reasonable, additional charges based on the Company’s actually incurred labor, material or other costs for such non-routine installation or maintenance. The Customer will be advised of and accept charges prior to dispatching a technician to the residence or business.

If the installation and maintenance of Service are requested at locations which are or may become hazardous or dangerous to the Telephone Company’s employees or the public or property, the Telephone Company may refuse to install and maintain such service, and, if such service is furnished may require the Customer to install and maintain such services and may also require the Customer to indemnify and hold the Telephone Company harmless from any claims, loss or damage by reason of the installation and maintenance of such service.

The Telephone Company will not be responsible if any changes in its Service cause hardware or software not provided by the Telephone Company to become obsolete or to require modification or alternation, or otherwise affect the performance of any such hardware or software.

The Telephone Company shall use reasonable efforts to make Services available by the estimated service date. The Telephone Company shall not be liable for any damages whatsoever resulting from delays in meeting the estimated service date due to delays resulting from normal installation procedures. Such delays shall include, but not be limited to delays in obtaining necessary regulatory approvals for construction, delays in obtaining right-of-way approvals, delays in actual construction work being done by the Telephone Company’s vendor(s), and any delays due to any Carrier where the Telephone Company is relying upon such Carrier to meet such estimated due date which is beyond the Telephone Company’s control.
2. Rules and Regulations (Cont’d)

2.1 Obligation and Liability of the Telephone Company (Cont’d.)

2.1.2 Interruptions of Service

In the event of an interruption to the Service not caused by (i) Customer or User-provided systems or CPE, (ii) the connection of customer-provided systems with the facilities or services of Other Providers, (iii) inside wiring or service failure on Customer’s side of the Demarcation Point, or (iv) the negligence or willful act of the Customer or User, an allowance will be made if the interruption is continuous for more than twenty-four (24) hours from the time it is reported to or detected by the Telephone Company, upon Customer request. The allowance will be calculated by multiplying the monthly recurring rate (if any) for the affected Service by the ratio that the number of hours such interruption bears to 720 hours. (For the purpose of this computation, each month is deemed to have 720 hours.) Such interruption is measured from the time the Company detects, or the Customer notifies the Company of, its occurrence until such time as the Interruption is cured, rounded to the nearest hour.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company, without incurring any liability whatsoever, may make scheduled Interruptions at any time (i) to ensure compliance by the Customer or User with this Guide, the Contract, (ii) to ensure proper installation and operation of the Customer’s and the Company’s equipment and facilities, (iii) to prevent fraudulent use of or access to the Services, or (iv) to perform any other maintenance, testing or inspection reasonably required for the provision of Services hereunder. If service will be interrupted for more than fifteen minutes the provider shall attempt to notify each affected customer.

The Customer is responsible for providing a suitable supply of commercial electrical power, including outlets, when and where required by the Company for the operation of any Company telecommunications equipment on the Premises. Failure to supply adequate commercial electrical power or battery back-up is considered negligence of the Customer. A Customer may be billed a service dispatch charge whenever a dispatch is made to correct a service interruption caused by (i) customer-provided systems or CPE, (ii) the connection of customer-provided systems with the facilities or services of Other Providers, (iii) inside wiring or service failure on Customer’s side of the demarcation point, or (iv) the negligence or willful act of the Customer or a User. The Customer will be advised of and accept charges prior to dispatching a technician to the residence or business.

The Customer also agrees to release, indemnify and hold harmless the Telephone Company in using an MTA or a telephone modem that requires electrical power in the event of a failure. Upon Customer’s request, the Telephone Company may provide battery back-up for the MTA or modem with the intent of such battery back-up permitting the provision of telephone service in the event of a power outage. However, the provision of telephone Service in the event of a power outage is not guaranteed. Prior to agreeing to service the Customer will be advised there is no guarantee of telephone service (including 911 service) in the event of a power outage, even with battery back-up.

In the event the Customer is affected by an interruption to the Service for a period of less than twenty-four (24) hours, no adjustment will be made. No adjustments will be earned by accumulating non-continuous periods of interruption.

THE COMPANY DISCLAIMS ALL REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION, ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, OR TITLE OR NON-INFRINGEMENT OF THIRD PARTY RIGHTS, FOR OR IN CONNECTION WITH THE USE OR PROVISION OF SERVICES PROVIDED HEREUNDER.

Title to all construction, provided wholly or partly at a Customer’s expense, is vested in the Telephone Company.

Construction charges will include materials, contract services, and loaded labor. The Customer is required to bear unusual maintenance costs for special construction.

Overhead loading of labor is calculated with a composite allocation factor that is based on plant, construction, and engineering personnel salaries and expenses; supervision, pension expense, insurance, unemployment and social security taxes. This factor is developed annually by determining the relationship of the above expenses to the total payroll base. It is applied to expenses for construction, removals, plant and central office maintenance.

The Telephone Company will provide an estimate of actual charge to the Customer prior to the start of construction. The Customer must pay for any special construction prior to the activation of Service and/or cancellation of the Contract. All charges are due and payable upon receipt of the bill. If the business Customer fails to pay an invoice within thirty (30) days of issuance, Charter will issue a notice of late payment.

When attachments are made to poles or other companies, in lieu of providing construction for which the Customer would be charged under the provisions hereof, the cost to the Telephone Company for such attachments are borne by the Customer.

Database records provide customer-specific information that includes the Customer name and service address. This information is made available to emergency service providers in the event that a call is placed to 911 from the End User’s telephone.

Where a 911 call is placed by the calling party via interconnection with an interexchange carrier or operator service provider, the Company cannot guarantee the completion of said call or the quality of said call.

To ensure 911 calls and emergency personnel are properly routed, Telephone Company equipment must not be moved by the Customer or User. The Telephone Company provides Automatic Location information (ALI) to the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP). For services ordered by the customer the Telephone Company will provide this location information for all lines on the same account. The Telephone Company does not support multiple address locations. The only address sent to 911 operator for all telephone numbers is the service address listed on the account. The Customer is responsible for directing any emergency personnel, related to a 911 call, to the correct building, room, location or person in need of emergency assistance. The customer will be so advised prior to service agreement.

If Customer requires location-specific Automatic Location Information (such as floor and room number within a building) for delivery to the Public Safety Answering Point, or otherwise desires E-911 service to be provided for multiple user configurations, Customer must implement private switch/Automatic Locations Identification (PS/ALI). If for two months in any 12 month period the Customer sends calls to the Company lacking required signaling information in excess of five percent of all calls during such months, the Company may terminate Local Interconnection Service to the Customer immediately with no liability from the Company to the Customer for such termination.

E. Local Interconnection Service is limited to End Users physically located in areas served by the Company. The Customer shall in all cases assign telephone numbers to End Users based on the End Users’ locations and fully in accordance with NANPA guidelines associating NPA-NXX codes with particular exchange areas. Unless otherwise agreed by the Company and the Customer on an Individual Case Basis, Local Interconnection Service is not to be used with any “virtual numbering” or foreign-exchange-like arrangements.

F. The Company and the Customer will conduct interoperability testing prior to the Customer’s implementing any software or call flow upgrade, enhancement or modification thereto. All special configurations are subject to the Company’s approval.
